Description

The project consultant, HGA will provide an update on the Community Center Needs Assessment at the March 11 PARC meeting.

City staff and HGA have begun work on conducting a community center needs assessment for the City. HGA is performing a comprehensive needs, programming, space and operational assessment of the current community center. They are also evaluating what is currently available in the community for recreational and public meeting spaces.

On January 27 and 28, HGA interviewed a number of current user groups as well as potential future patrons. In addition, HGA's engineering team has completed an evaluation of Creekside's current condition and maintenance needs. The draft needs assessment report is expected to be presented to the City Council in late April.
